CHAPEL HILL HIGH SCHOOL

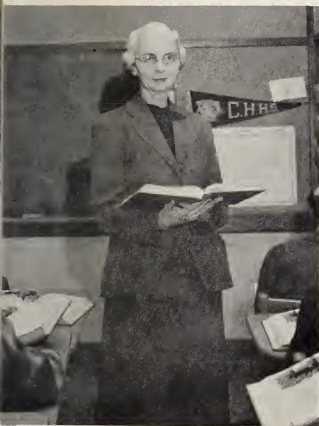

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA

Mrs. Bernadine Sullivan

For Guiding and Teaching Us . . .

Dedication

The woman receiving our dedication is one who supported us when we were in need, advised us when we required advice, and gave us confidence when we lacked it. With unremitting hard work year after year, she has helped give, not only our class, but our school, many yearbooks to remember.

She has taught and guided us, not only as a teacher, but as a friend. For all of these things and more, we, the senior class and members of the annual staff, wish to show our gratitude by dedicating the 1958 HILLIFE to Mrs. Bernadine Sullivan.

For Being Our Friend . . .

Our Appreciation

Mr. Davis came to Chapel Hill in 1945 to serve as principal of Chapel Hill High School and superintendent of the city schools. Because of the burning of the high school, classes were being held in the elementary school, the Cone Building, and the basement of the Baptist Church. From that time to this, under Mr. Davis' guidance, Chapel Hill High School has become one of the best schools in the state and the enrollment has at least doubled.

Even though Mr. Davis is now retiring, his influence will still be strongly felt because he has been instrumental in the long range plans which include a high school cafeteria, a new home economics building, and a new elementary school.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to Mr. Davis for all that he has done for us.

For Leading

MR. CHARLES W. DAVIS

Us Through . . .

Moods and Shadows

of C. H. H. S.

In this year of change, both in the world and in the school, we have seen that Chapel Hill High is as complex and varied as the people who go daily through its halls and classrooms. It is a school of many moods and many faces. On each page of the 1958 HILLIFE we have tried to capture in photographs some of the school's ever-changing moods.

As the pages are turned, it is our hope that the black and white shadows found there will bring to life again the happenings of 1957-58, the year we spent together in Chapel Hill High.

In School ..

... Or Out.

Rain dripping through the roof and grass growing through the floor boards made it very apparent that the Tincan was not an adequate excuse for a gymnasium. Nearly freezing on winter nights, or nearly being crushed in the crowd while watching a basketball game, gave vent to the cry heard frequently around the school for several years: "Will we ever get a new gym?"

It was no wonder then, that in the fall of '56, when the gym construction began, we all watched from classroom windows with both excitement and relief. A new era was beginning for CHHS. Our new gym was on its way!

THE OLD TINCAN

Dig that foundation.

Raise that roof.

Heave it up, man, heave it up.

Nope, not quite.

Wahoo! Our NEW GYM!

Basketball games.

Our New Gym Provides For . . .

Intramural participation.

Sock Hops

Yeah, man, it's all ours.

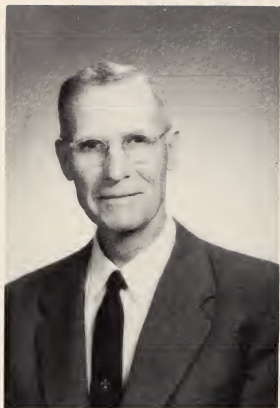

This was the year we literally saw the roof being taken off our Rec. But we are not left with only memories. Plans have already been laid for a new recreation center to be built in the very near future.

ADMINISTRATION

Superintendent

JOSEPH M. JOHNSTON
Principal

MAY MARSHBANKS
Assistant Principal

Mr. C. W. Davis superintended all the Orange County schools including our high school just as he has done for the past thirteen years. A new man on the job was our principal and associate superintendent, Dr. Joseph M. Johnston. Dr. Johnston quickly made himself at home here after coming to us from Asheboro where he had been principal. This year, besides teaching math, Miss May Marshbanks carried out her new job of being assistant principal. This job entailed more counseling, much filling out of transcripts, and taking over in the principal's absence.

These people, plus their very capable 23-member faculty, guided us expertly through our school year.

Class History

From...

GREEN FRESH/MEA
(1954)

Our class has evolved from bewildered, scourged freshmen, through all-knowing, scoffed-at sophomores, through hard-working, recognized juniors, to finally become those venerated, fourth-year antiquities of the school, the seniors.

Through the years, those first scattered groups from White Cross, Carrboro, and Chapel Hill that Student Body President Clarice Merritt welcomed on Orientation Day, 1954, have drawn closer and closer and closer together, until they have become one: the class of '58—one of the more outstanding senior classes ever to pass through the doors of CHHS.

As freshmen we seemed to be the greenest weeds those upperclassmen ever trampled down. But we pulled through the first-week chaos to live up to our name "fresh" as we stole the spotlight briefly to give CHHS its first Homecoming Queen to come from the freshman class, Martha Hubbard. That year we began a tradition. We elected Ruffin Harville as our class president just as we were to do for the next two years. And we led the school honor roll for the whole year, just as we were to do for our sophomore year.

Crawling out of the freshman mire of David Copperfield, general science classes, and the nerve-fraying games of our Cinderella basketball team, we now had firm enough footing to become sophomores.

This was the year we began to exist as a class. In the year of Ronnie Lackey's reign as Student Body President, we entered a float series—"Bulldog Recipes"—in the Homecoming Parade, and Mrs. Sullivan's hard-working homeroom won honorable mention. We were unable, though, to escape laughs from upper-classmen when we received third place in Stunt Nite for "His Grace Becomes Her Highness."

Leaving Silas Marner behind to count his money, and leaving our dissected frogs to stew in their own formaldehyde, we waded out of the underclassman swamps to become juniors.

What a year! We showed we had congealed into a top-notch class by selling more magazine subscriptions than ever before, and by winning first prize on Stunt Nite with the spectacular history of the music and dance, "From Stone to Kock." Sandy Williams attested to the beauty and popularity in the class by being elected Homecoming Queen, while sixteen class members attested to scholarship by being inducted into the Honor Society. By no means Shakespearean drama, "Everybody's Getting Married," the junior play, entertained the school. The year was capped by our lavish Junior-Senior. We danced in a "Deep Purple" dream created by glitter and silhouettes and Russ Olson's orchestra.

As we watched our junior marshals led by Chief Marshal Neil Clark, leading the class of '57 down the aisle on graduation night, we had many memories to recall: Jerry Hocutt, School President; our championship basketball team; a district-leading baseball team; and unforgettable American History under Mr. Herndon.

Now we had reached our peak. We were the Seniors of CHHS. Honor still came as Frances Strowd became the third Homecoming Queen from our class, and our float series won. Now, though, much more responsibility came with the honors. Under Tam Lefler, class President, and Wyndell Merritt, School President, we pitched ourselves (dignity and all) into a flurry of activity. We began to realize our time in Chapel Hill High was growing short, and we had to make the best of our opportunities. Class rings, selling vanilla for a Washington trip, scholarship tests, invitation cards, being measured for caps and gowns, and frequent teacher-lectures only pointed more strongly to the fact that we were moving quickly toward commencement night when we would leave CHHS. But when that night came, we knew we could be proud of the name we were leaving behind us.

The Student Council is the heart of our student government. This organization, composed of representatives elected by the students, carries on many projects beneficial to the school. Among these projects are the Student Handbook, the Get-Acquainted Dance, Stunt Night, Vocations Day, the selection of the Student of the Month, organization of the Homecoming festivities, and the planning of assemblies. The Student Council also has a special committee to help new students become acquainted with our school.

Honor Council

The Honor Council is the judicial branch of our student government. Our honor system is designed to encourage each student to discipline himself. The Honor Council is primarily concerned with helping the student develop this self-discipline and maturity.

Members of the staff can be found working in the Proconian room almost any period of the school day. Because of their effort and enthusiasm, the Proconian is something of which our school is justly proud.

Hilllife

MRS. SULLIVAN ..... Advisor
PAT HUNTER ..... Editor
NEIL CLARK ..... Business Manager

Putting out an annual is a tremendous job. Almost every member of the Hilllife staff can testify to that fact. More than a year's planning, weeks of preparation and at times helter-skelter organization of copy and pictures, plus many sleepless nights go into putting out the best possible Hilllife.

Chapel Hill High School is fortunate to participate in the American Field Service exchange student program. During the past four years, four students have spent the year with us: Barry Hughes from England, "Eddie" Osawa from Japan, Martine Masure from Belgium, and this year, Dono Hulsker from the Netherlands.

Two Chapel Hill High School students have also spent summers abroad under the AFS summer program. They are Marilyn Markell who spent the summer of 1956 in Germany and Martha Adams who spent last summer in Turkey.

The American Field Service began during World War I when a group of Americans living in Paris volunteered to drive ambulances on the French battle fields. With the coming of the Second World War, the American Field Service took up its work again on a much larger scale throughout Europe, India, Burma, and many other countries.

After the war, the American Field Service wanted to find a peace time use for the highly organized and efficiently run net of international connections which it had established. Then came the idea of promoting world understanding through exchange students. Thus the AFS, as we know it today, began.

OFFICERS

SUSAN KEITH-LUCAS	Reporter
IRENE MARKELL	Vice-President
BILL ROE	President
DELORIS WILSON	Secretary-Treasurer

To the Library Club goes the credit for our efficient and smooth-running library. Members of the club perform many time consuming tasks such as processing new books, returning books to the shelves, and working at the circulation desk. Other activities of the club include keeping a scrap-book, giving the faculty tea, and attending the district and state conventions. This year the Library Club has stressed a program which encouraged students to take better care of the library.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is made up of outstanding juniors and seniors who are chosen for membership on the basis of character, scholarship, service, and leadership.

This year, as a service project, National Honor Society members have kept the library open in the evening for students who wish to use the reference books or who needed a quiet place to study. The Induction Ceremony for new members is another major project of the National Honor Society.

Band

The Chapel Hill High School Band provides much enjoyment for everyone with its public concerts, its music at pep rallies, and its clever half-time shows at the football games. In addition to these activities, the band participates in the district and state contests.

Glee Club

The Glee Club is made up mostly of vocal music students. The remaining members are chosen at the beginning of the year in an audition of those wishing to be in the Glee Club but unable to take vocal music.

The entire Glee Club practices once a week in preparation for its programs which include a Christmas concert, usually a spring concert, and a trip to the state contest.

Future Homemakers

The over-all goal of the Future Homemakers of America is to help girls improve personal, family, and community living, now and in the future.

Some of the activities of the Future Homemakers of America include attending the district and state rallies, observing National FHA Week, and giving the FHA Mother-Daughter Banquet in the spring.

Future Farmers

In Chapel Hill High School the FFA students study improved practices in feeding livestock and growing crops. In their projects at home they put these improved methods into practice. In the shop they learn how to use machines and hand tools to do farm maintenance and repair jobs. Students of CHHS enter contests with teams from other schools having Future Farmer organizations.

To the cheerleaders goes much of the credit for our fine school spirit. The Head Cheerleader is elected in the spring and her squad of eight girls is chosen at the end of the school year by a special committee composed of faculty and townspeople.

The cheerleaders spend long hours in the summer practicing old cheers and perfecting new ones. In addition to cheering at all football and basketball games, the cheerleaders hold pep rallies and put up pep posters before each game which help to increase both team and school spirit.

THE SEASON'S RESULTS

The outlook for the 1957 football seasons was not too bright, because of the graduation of many fine players. However, with the excellent coaching of Coaches Robert Culton and Joe Augustine, and the fine spirit and supreme effort put forth by the members of the team, the Wildcat gridgers compiled a 6-4 record, which was the best in seven years.

THE SQUAD

Basketball Season's Record

The basketball team was built almost from the ground up with only five returning lettermen. Over half the team and many of the boys who didn't make the varsity were sophomores. These boys will build a strong foundation for basketball teams in the next few years. The season was split between wins and losses (eight each) and the new gym was carefully broken in.

Dear Virginia,

Wow, did you give me a difficult task. It sure was tough trying to choose one queen and even eight queens from twelve. After much concerted effort and a great deal of burning of the midnight oil I finally decided on the winners. Here they are: Queen—Judy Ferguson and Pam Dobson as runner-up. The remainder of the court, not necessarily in order of choice, are Toby Andrews, Becky Wells, Betty Hayes, Brenda Harwood and Sue Ham. I wish I could include all twelve in the court as they are all deserving.

Let me take this opportunity to wish each and every one of you all the luck and success I know you'll achieve.

Yours sincerely,

PAT BOONE

AT LAST REMEMBERING THIS WAS THE YEAR THAT:

Sputnik and Muttnik were launched.

The U. S. felt challenged by Russia's scientists.

Educational standards were raised...

Adelaide Corbin made a B on an English test.

Eisenhower declared an emergency situation in U. S. schools ...

Mrs. Reagan was throwing chalk.

England was conquered by America...

Miss Lewis went to Oxford...

The Seniors were conquered by England.

There was a slight depression—deflation set in after inflation ...

Thomas Boyd's tires needed air.

Members of the War years' "Baby-Boom" hit the high schools ...

The freshmen clogged the halls of CHHS.

Our Shadow Ends.

Those who allowed us to extend it. . .
